

CONTEMPORARY CULTURE WORKROOM

SHARING KNOWLEDGE

To best understand the collection, Burke curators collaborate with scholars, researchers, artists and Indigenous community members—right here. Researchers near and far can learn about each object from the database. This workroom also provides a place where people can study and visit the objects in person.

What objects do you have at home that you would like to preserve for future generations?

1L3.1.0.gp1

